

Formula 1 History

Krislyn Vaz

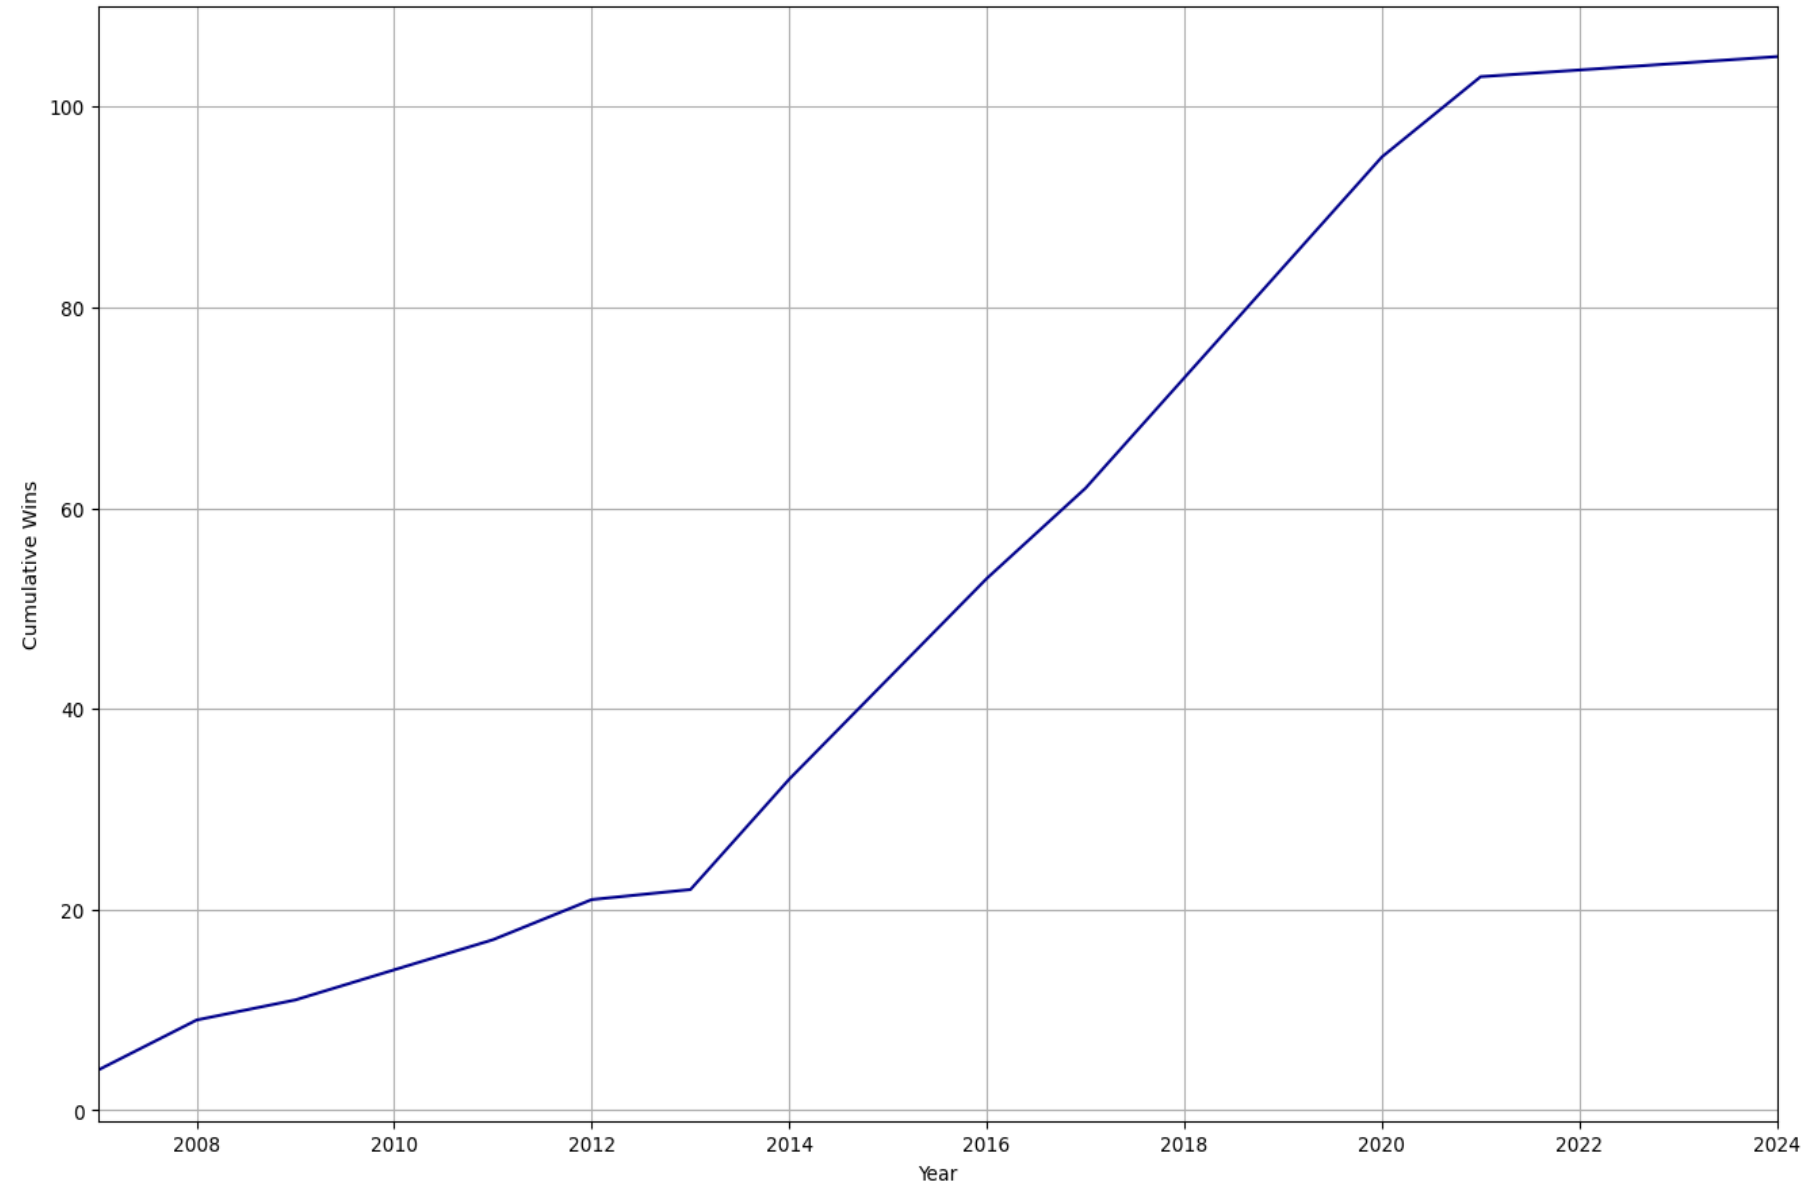

Top 5 drivers with the most wins in history

Who are the most successful drivers in F1 History?

- Lewis Hamilton leads all-time with 104 wins and seven world champions.
- All five drivers were once a world champion.

Cumulative Wins Over Time for Lewis Hamilton from 2007-2024

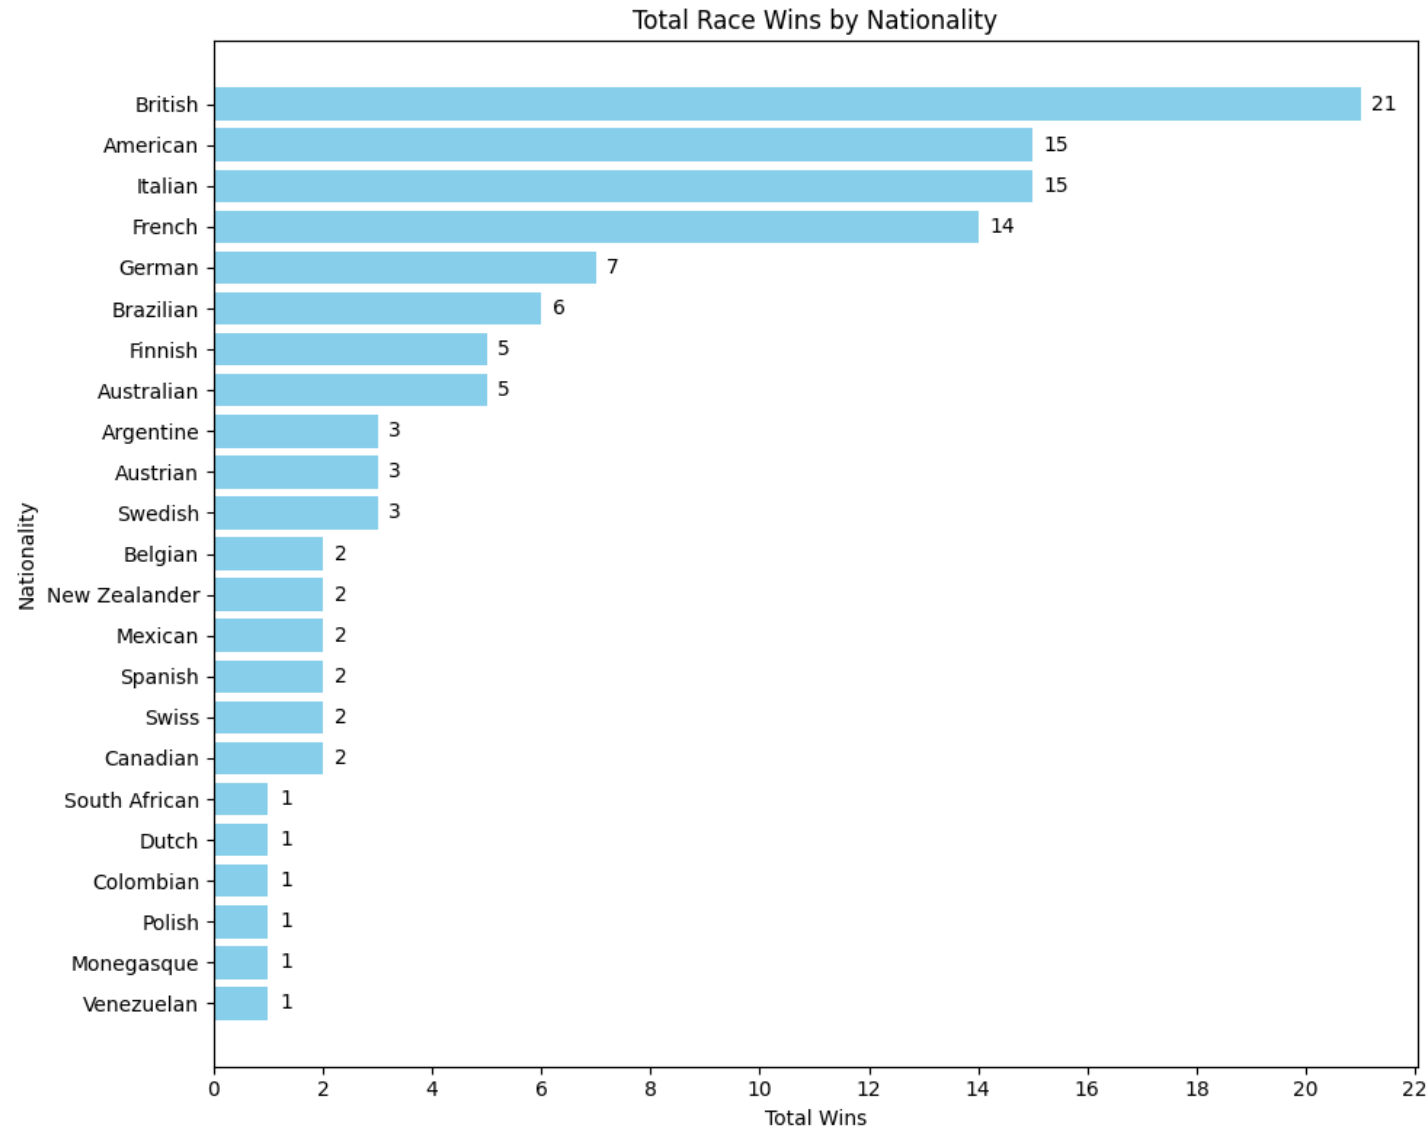

How has Lewis Hamilton's performance evolved over time?

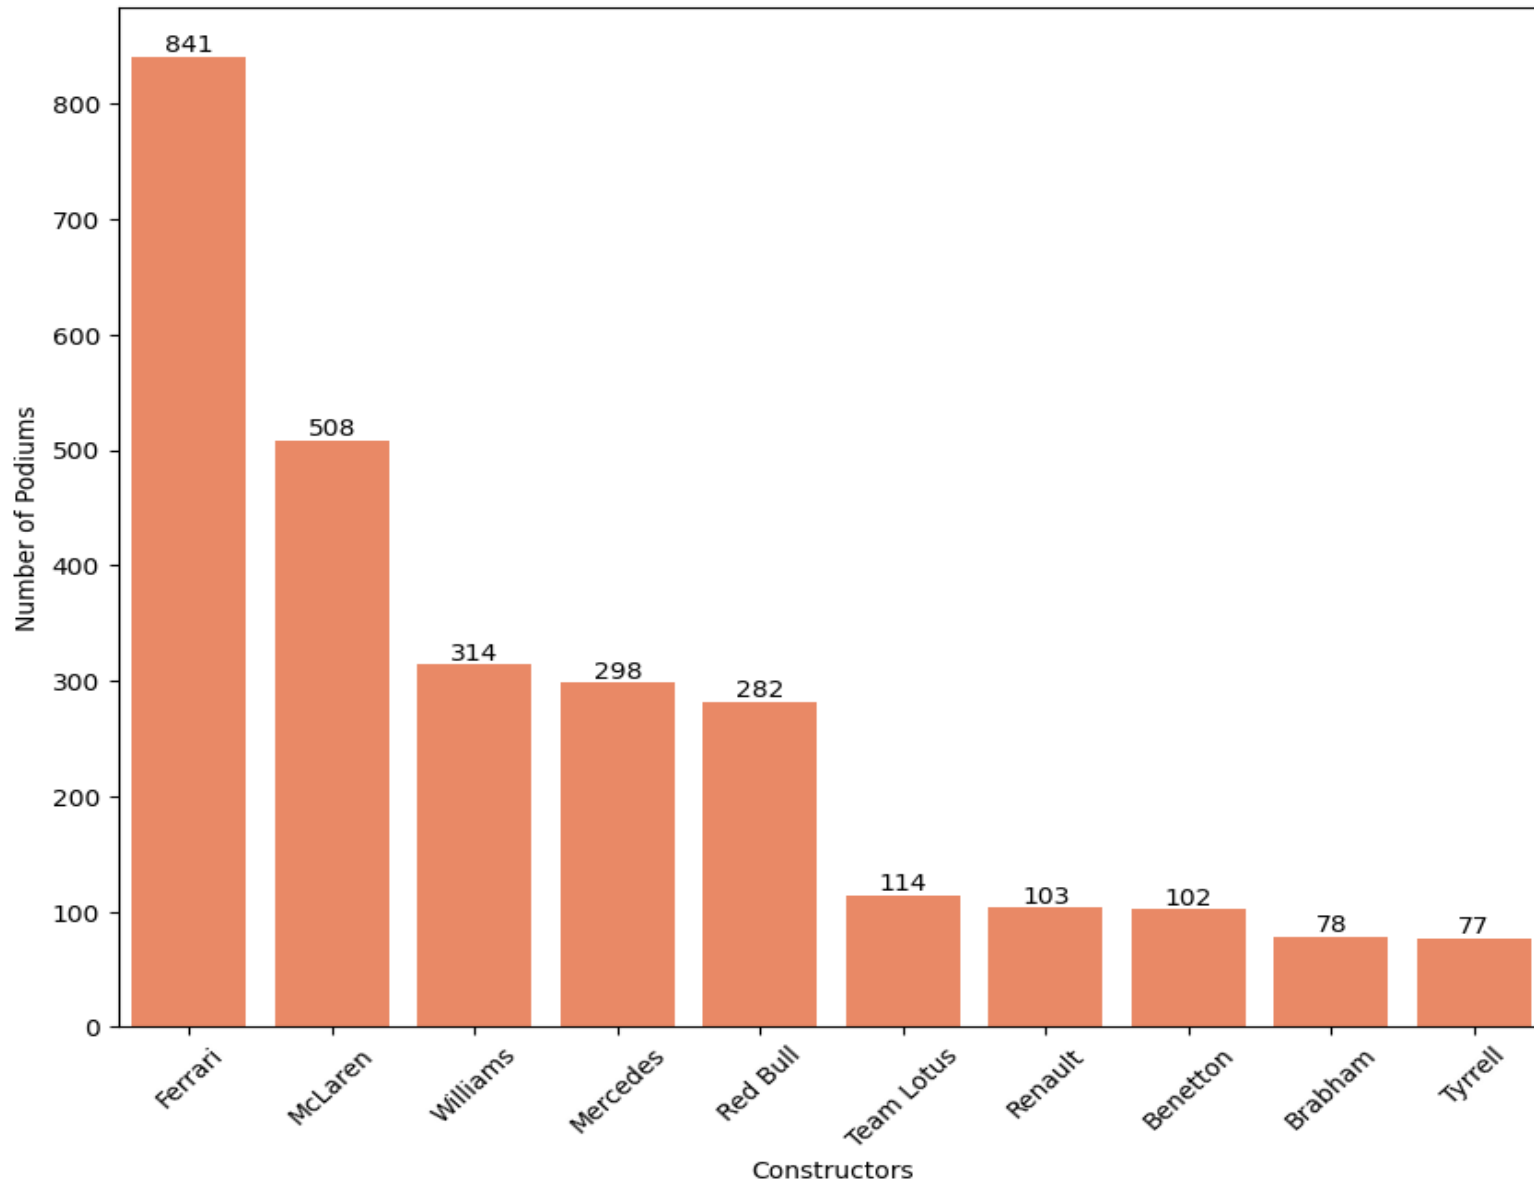

- Hamilton debuted in 2007.
- His win count accelerated in 2013, coinciding with his move to Mercedes.
- Averaged 10+ wins per season from 2014 to 2020.

Which nationalities dominate Formula 1 wins?

- British drivers lead with the most wins, showing long-term F1 dominance.
- Race wins are historically dominated by drivers from a handful of nations, even though F1 has expanded globally.

Top 10 Constructors by Podium Finishes

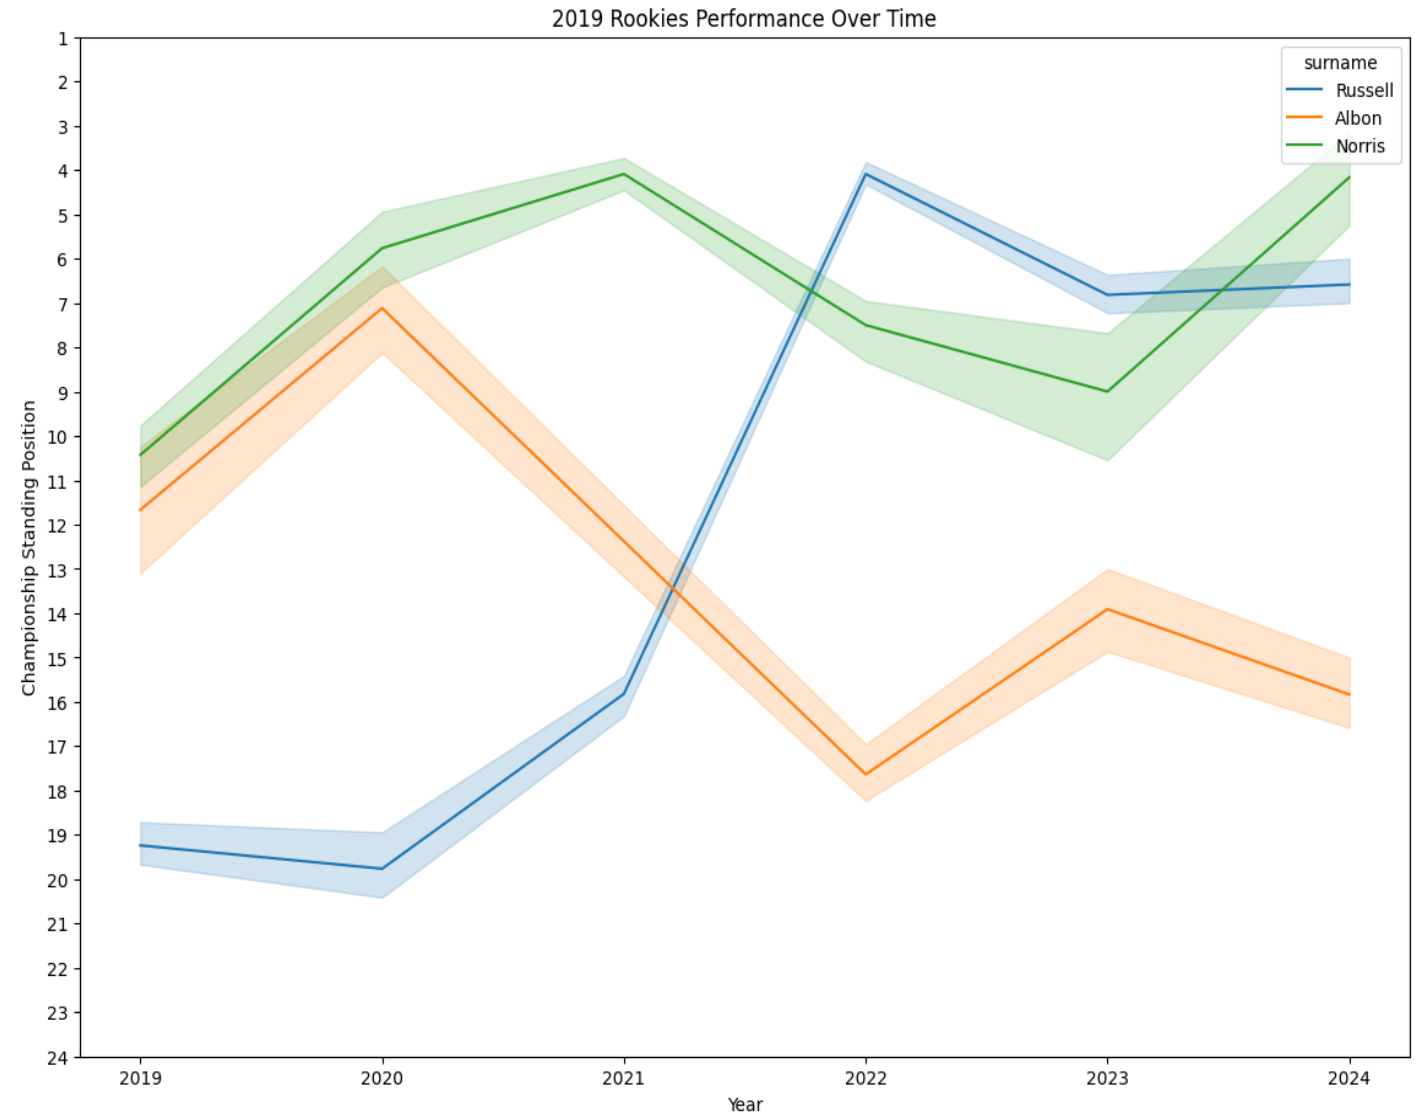

Which constructors have the most podium finishes?

- McLaren and Ferrari dominate with the most wins.
- Some teams such as Brawn GP or Renault have short-term success, due to team changes or standout drivers like Jenson Button.

How have 2019 rookies progressed in F1?

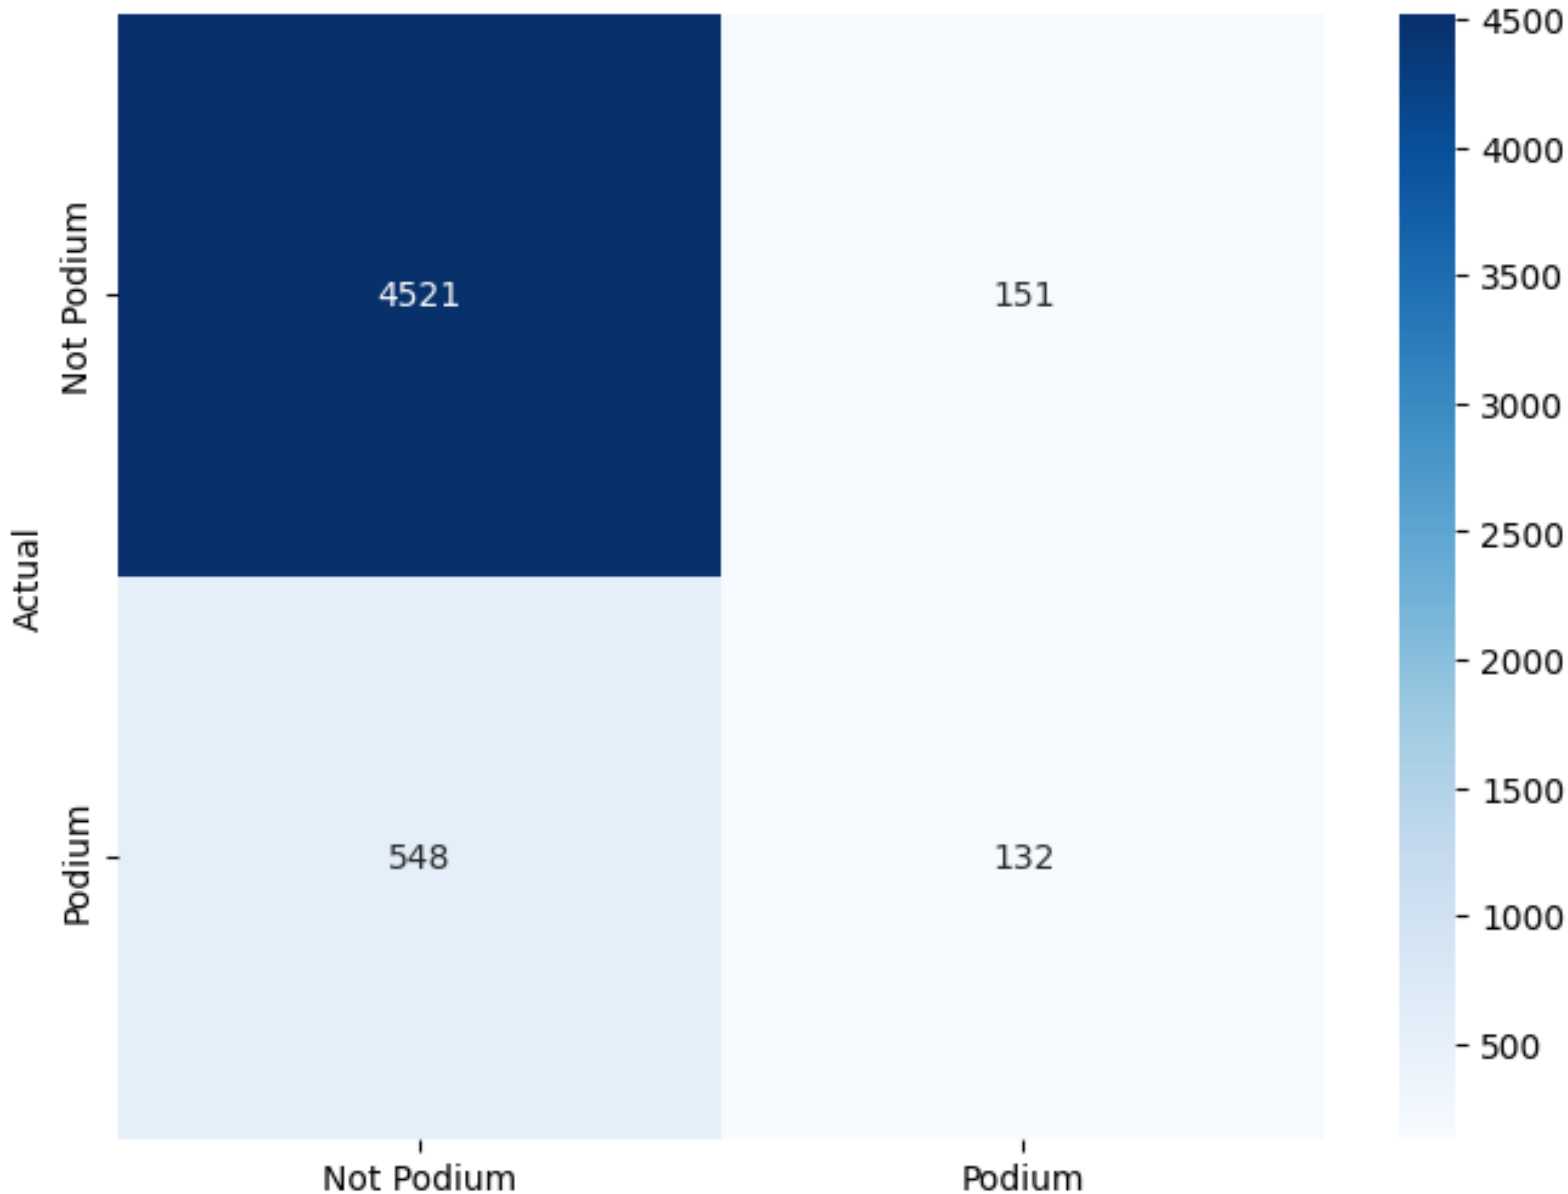

- Lando Norris shows steady growth and consistent performance with McLaren.
- George Russell made a major leap in competitiveness after moving from Williams to Mercedes in 2022.
- Alex Albon faced performance challenges rebuilding his career with Williams after being dropped from Red Bull in 2020.

Does starting in pole position significantly increase chances of winning?

- Probability of winning the race from pole position is 42.35%.

Confusion Matrix

Can we predict whether a driver will finish on the podium?

- Model was very good at predicting when a driver wouldn't finish on the podium.
- It was less accurate at spotting actual podium finishes.
- 88% accuracy overall.
- 46% accuracy for predicting podium finishes.